HARDING WILL BE ASKED TO JOIN A MODIFIED LEAGUE

Will Feel Out Foreign Governments Before Making His Answer.

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS, Mar. 10.—It was stated at the foreign office today that negotiations are under way between the French embassy at Washington and the state department in an effort to induce President Harding to offer acceptance of a modified league of nations.

PARIS, Mar. 10.—The French position is conciliatory and is believed to relate to expressions by officials connected with the present Washington administration made during the peace conference.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Administration officials withheld comment today on the statement made at the French foreign office that negotiations were under way between the French embassy here and the state department, with regard to the acceptance by the United States of a modified league of nations.

The impression was given, however, that the initiative in any such scheme rested entirely with the French government.

Secretary Hughes refused to discuss the question. It became known however, that on last Tuesday he had a half-hour talk with Ambassador Jannerand, just before the presentation of the diplomatic corps. Mr. Jannerand is dean of that corps and at that time it was said his visit had to do largely with the visit of the envoys.

President Harding has indicated along that his first steps in foreign affairs would come after the formulation of a definite domestic reconstruction program, and that nothing formal would be done until the attitude of foreign governments had been felt out through unofficial channels.

The forthcoming visit of former Premier Viviani on special mission and the return of Ambassador Davis from London are regarded as opening two important avenues of information, aside from those which the president is preparing in his own initiative.

It would not surprise those in close touch with the situation if the president also sent several representatives abroad to make inquiries.

Ada Lady Has Much Trouble

Cub Tells of Incidents Concerning Matter

By the Cub
Yes, it has happened again! It happens every day, many times in many different ways and places. Hundreds of people are concerned, hundreds directly or indirectly affected. This time it was so strong that it was even more noticeable than ever, more noticeable because of the large number of people concerned over the one matter. Principals involved also had an effect on the matter, and the facts are a great factor in causing it to be so noticeable.

How did it happen? It was like this. The News phone rang, was answered and a voice at the other end of the line asked, "Will you come over, I have something for you?"

"Sure will," is the answer to the query. A representative of the News immediately left for the place mentioned, and after a few minutes absence returned. Things went on as usual and nothing out of the ordinary seemed to take place. But, in spite of this something was being done. A small something was doing its work, the work by which so many people would be affected.

Later after the paper had gone to press and was on the streets, the results of what was being done began to take shape. A family sat around the dinner table, eating the evening meal when the telephone rang. It is answered by the lady of the house, who after listening to a voice on the phone, replies with an interested voice. The conversations ends, the meal continues when the phone rings again. It was again answered with the same results. Many more times during the evening it rang with the same results. The dinner is badly interrupted, and it was only with much disturbance that it was finished.

Several callers are also received during the evening, the topic discussed is about the same as was discussed on the phone. The callers leave with an air of disappointment and more come. The results were the same. Finally a person calls

Last Minute Telegraph

Defer Action on Treaty
(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—An agreement to defer action on the Colombian treaty until the April session of congress and to vote upon the treaty on the eighth day after congress convenes was reached today by the senate.

Appointment Confirmed
(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—The nomination of Dr. C. E. Sawyer of Marion, Ohio, President Harding's personal physician, to be brigadier general in the medical reserve corps of the army, was confirmed today by the senate.

Crissinger for Comptroller
(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—D. R. Crissinger of Marion, Ohio, was nominated today by President Harding to be comptroller of the currency.

Mr. Crissinger will succeed John Skelton Williams, who resigned two days before the Harding administration began. He is a lawyer and banker and lifelong friend of the president.

PACKERS IN PARIN OVER WAGE CUTS

OMAHA, Neb.—The vanguard of the delegates to the national conference of packing house workers' representatives who go into session here today to discuss the announced reduction in wages of employees, was here early this morning.

The situation, while admittedly uncertain, is being kept well in hand by the apparent determination of the union leaders to pursue a waiting policy until the actual conference begins. Managers of the local plants, however, are standing firm. Meetings of local unions in several sections of town last night were heated but these reflected the attitude of the more radical of the workmen and not the leaders, it was said.

R. W. Murphy, manager of Cudahy's plant here, said that he "anticipated no serious trouble," pointing out that, although the men should strike "they own homes here and are I believe, law-abiding citizens."

Jacob Davis, president of the fifth district of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, discussed the situation freely. He likewise hoped for some adjustment which will dispose of the matter. He laughed at the idea of strike violence.

John Malone, ninth district president, Fort Worth, Texas, is in the city, but was non-committal relative to the probable outcome of the conference. Opinion among the workers seems divided as to whether or not a strike will be called.

and after a short talk, leaves with a satisfied smile. Something pleasing to him had taken place. Other callers come but are dismissed with a short sentence.

All during the next day at intervals the household was disturbed by the phone ringing. This continued for a period of three days. The lady of the house becomes worried, and tires of answering the same question so much. During this time more than a hundred different people have phoned, come in person, or in some way sent word on the matter, and the facts are a great factor in causing it to be so noticeable.

Then, after all this trouble the News representative was accosted by the lady, who had met with so much trouble.

"It did the work," she remarks. "I was never so tired of anything in my life."

"Well, I am glad you are not disappointed in getting the results," he answers her. "How many people have called on you during the past three days?"

"Oh, there must have been a hundred at least," she declares, throwing her arms up in a tired expression of how she was more than satisfied with it all. "We got the right parties, however," she continues "but what I don't understand is how so many people found it out so early. Why I hadn't more than gotten home when the phone began ringing, and it was one continual disturbance after that. I looked over the paper in a hurried manner when I reached home but failed to find what I was looking for. I just supposed that it had been left out," was her closing remarks, as the News representative departed with a satisfied smile.

Again, what caused all this? Why was it so important? And why did it continue so long? What did these people want? It was all caused by a little three line want ad in the News. The little ad that had been buried in some hard to find had brought results almost before the paper was on the streets. They are all read, and they all bring results. Try them, I thank you.

Clara Smith Hamon and Jake L. Hamon.

Famous Clara Smith Trial Started Today

Task of Selecting Jury May Be Completed Today, Reported.

(By the Associated Press)
COURT HOUSE, ARDMORE, March 10.—At 9:13 this morning Thomas W. Chamion ascended the bench, dropped his gavel, the bailiff intoned his "O yes, O yes." The honorable district court of Carter county is now in session and the trial of Clara Smith Hamon for the alleged murder of Jake L. Hamon, Oklahoma's greatest murder trial in her 14 years of statehood, is under way.

Mrs. Hamon the widow, was not in the court room and Attorney General Freeling, in charge of the prosecution, said she would not be in court.

The names of twelve men, out of 35, who remained from the venire summoned at the opening of the court, were called and they took seats in the jury box for examination as jurors.

Clara Smith Hamon listened intently as the names were called, and watched closely as the men filed to the box. She was clad in a blue serge suit and hat. She wore a light textured veil, black stockings and patent leather slippers.

Counsel for the defense and prosecution announced they were ready to begin.

The defendant held a final conference with her counsel last night and Mr. Freeling worked far into the night completing his plans for the state case.

Both defense and state counsel said they would be content with handling the case on its merits as a murder case and no resorting to "grandstanding" would be done.

In a final statement before the trial today, Mrs. Hamon said she regretted she had not taken action years ago while Clara Smith Hamon was still Clara Smith to end her association with Hamon. Clara Smith obtained the name of Hamon by marriage to Frank Hamon, nephew of the man she is accused of killing.

In a statement made in the presence of her father, her 19 year old son, Jake, Jr., and Mrs. Katherine Reed, Ardmore newspaper woman, Mrs. Hamon said she had debated with herself many times whether to throw acid in Clara Smith's face to disfigure her so she would not be beautiful and attract Hamon's attention, but she could never bring herself to do this. "Oh, if I only had," she repeated.

ARDMORE, Mar. 10.—When twelve men who did not disqualify themselves on examination were seated in the jury box, the defense in the trial of Clara Smith Hamon for the alleged murder of Jake L. Hamon waived peremptory challenge. The rapidly with which the venimen were passed by both sides was described as surprising. Both sides said a jury would be selected by the middle of the afternoon and expressed pleasure with the progress of the trial.

During the course of examination of the venimen by the counsel for the state, spectators in the crowded court room bent eagerly for-

The Trial Starts

Today marks the beginning of the famous Clara Smith trial at Ardmore. Counsel for the state and for the defense are now engaged in the task of selecting 12 men who are qualified to handle so delicate a question as the life and liberty of a frail and beautiful woman accused of murder, and at the same time do full justice to the law which says "Thou shalt not kill." How long it will take to secure 12 such men in Carter county no one can surmise.

The world is leaning forward, deeply interested, eager to catch the faintest echo from the trial of this remarkable case.

Jake L. Hamon, millionaire, prominent republican politician with all his wealth and influence could not stay the hand of death. On November 21, in a room in the Randolph hotel, at Ardmore, he was shot. On November 26 his spirit went out to dwell in silence "till the great day when every knee shall bow, and every tongue shall break the silence of the centuries."

More than two hundred witnesses have been subpoenaed to tell the jury what they know about different phases of the case and a brilliant array of talent is on hand to represent both sides. Attorney General S. Prince Freeling, who is in personal charge of the prosecution of Clara Smith by special direction of Governor Robertson said today that there would be no "grandstanding" in the case, but the world knows better.

The Evening News will each day print all of the up-to-the-minute news from this sensational trial. The reports of the Associated Press will be supplemented by the reports of a member of the News staff who will attend the trial after the jury has been selected.

Military Band to Appear in Concert At Normal Tonight

Final plans for the concert to be given by the Oklahoma A. and M. Military band in the Normal auditorium tonight are being made today and it is expected that the affair will be well attended. The band boys will arrive in the city from Holdenville.

This band which is composed of 72 pieces has been making a tour of the state, visiting the largest cities and appearing before hundreds of people. They have a very able instructor and are a credit to the A. and M. college. When they come here tonight they will be accompanied by other members of the college who will appear in the concert with violin, saxophone and vocal solos.

LEGISLATIVE CHARGES REVIEWED BY JUDGE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Governor McRae today refused to remove Judge John W. Wade from the bench on request of the Arkansas legislature contained in a joint address to him, on the ground that cause advanced for removal was not sufficient to warrant this action.

Judge John W. Wade of the Pulaski circuit court, with members of the grand jury, which he instructed to investigate charges of immorality on the part of the legislators, appeared before Governor McRae this morning in a hearing of charges made in resolutions passed by the legislature that the judge had reflected upon the characters of the women employees of the legislature. The resolution responsible for the hearing was one asking the governor to remove Judge Wade from office.

Before entering the hearing, Judge Wade said he only could reiterate his explanation of the instructions to the jury given that body in a second set of instructions to the jury yesterday.

Misquoted, Says Judge.
In his explanation to the grand jury, Judge Wade stated that he had been misquoted when he was credited with saying that young women candidates for positions with the legislature had told him it was necessary to compromise themselves as a preliminary to employment.

Judge Wade said: "I want to say that I did not mean to reflect upon any woman employed in any capacity in either branch of the assembly. 'To the best of my ability, this is what I said: 'You must investigate reports of the possessions and use of whisky by legislators and find any corruption, if any, in connection therewith. I am told by a peace officer that there is more immorality by members of this legislature than there has been by legislatures in many years. A lady came to my chambers a few days ago and told me she was an applicant for a position in the senate; that she was called to a hotel by a senator about her application, here she was invited to his rooms; that she was insulted and refused to be compromised to secure a position. 'A thing of this kind is to be deplored and condemned. 'Reports come to me of trips of parties of senators into the country where lobbyists entertain them with whisky. Departments of government have been abolished and fights have been made against this abolition. Politicians have had their political life at stake. Any offense committed must have been in this country. The grand jury of no other county can investigate the matter. You owe it to the state of Arkansas to ascertain the extent of these evils and what they have to do, if anything, with politics or corruption in legislations.'"

PANAMA-COSTA RICA CONFLICT IS ENDED

(By the Associated Press)

San Jose, Costa Rica, Mar. 10.—Denial of the Costa Rican army which crossed the Panamanian frontier, and the withdrawal of that country back for upwards of 25 miles, has been ordered by the government. There is much favorable comment on the action of the new American administration in quickly ending the conflict with Panama.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—Panama refused to accept the White award as a basis of peace with Costa Rica, it informed the American government in a note made public today by the state department.

It is understood that the Panama note is not regarded by the state department as satisfactory and that a counter proposal has been made by President Porras, which may be made the basis of further negotiations.

IMPEACHMENT CHARGES AGAINST TRAPP BEFORE HOUSE

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 10.—The articles of impeachment against Lieutenant Governor Trapp were read in the house of the Oklahoma legislature shortly before noon today and discussion and a vote on their adoption was deferred until 1:30 o'clock. Extended discussion is expected and a final vote is not expected until late in the day.

Germany's coal output in eleven months of 1920 is estimated at 119,420,430 tons. These figures do not include the production of Alsace Lorraine, Saar and Pfalz.

Fair tonight, warmer in east and southern portions. Friday partly cloudy. Colder in north and west portion.

HIGHWAY OFFICE IS AGAIN ATTACKED

Attempt of highway department employees to block construction money is charged in the report of the investigating committee of the house of representatives, which was expected to be filed Thursday morning. R. H. Matthews of McAlester, chairman of the committee, filed the report with the clerk of the house late Wednesday afternoon, and it was agreed to defer reading it until the next day.

The report sets out that after the introduction of senate bill No. 375, which would require the state highway commissioner to be an engineer, of which Senator G. R. Horner of Okmulgee is one of the authors, an employee of the highway department went to Okmulgee and told business men and county officials there that unless Horner were persuaded to withdraw his name from the bill, no federal aid money would be given to Okmulgee county.

No action by the house of representatives is recommended in the report. It recommends merely that the report be adopted and a copy of testimony involving the charges be sent officially to the senate, where bill No. 375 is pending.

The testimony includes statements by the highway department employee charged with having made the threats to Okmulgee county residents. The employee, said Henry Wood, highway commissioner, did not send her to Okmulgee county to urge the withdrawal of the Horner bill. She is quoted, however, as saying Wood said he would approve Okmulgee county's road project if Horner continued to advocate the bill.

American Legion Is Organizing a Base Ball Team

Indications are that Ada will have the best base ball team this season that has ever played for the city. Walter Wray, commander of the local Legion post, will probably be the manager of the team, and it is conceded that no one better suited for the position could be found.

There are thirty local players to pick the team from and men are in sight for all positions except a pitcher. They boys are now on the scout for a twirler capable of helping them bring home the bacon and when he is located the practicing will start.

It is to be called the American Legion Team, and will be composed of Legion members only. Watch things hum when they get started.

LABOR ORGANIZATION AND GOOD ROADS CLUBS TO MEET

The Ada labor organization will hold a meeting at the court house tonight. A speaker will be on hand to address the unemployed men of the city and a large crowd is expected.

Immediately following the meeting of the labor organization, the Good Roads Motor club will hold a meeting behind closed doors at the court house. All members are urged to attend both meetings.

BOLSHEVIC SOLDIERS JOIN REBEL FORCES

(By the Associated Press)

RIGAN, Mar. 10.—Three brigades of bolshevik soldiers in Moscow have deserted and joined the revolutionary forces, it is said in advices received here. The action of the soldiers was prompted by the very acute food situation, at the soviet capital.

Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses have been issued to the following people in the past two days:
Dewitt Wallace, 21, Atoka, and Miss Zula Thomons, 18, Allen.
Carl Wilson, 20, Stonewall, and Miss Dasie Mayfield, 20, Stonewall.
Leonard West, 21, Troy, and Miss Ethel Coady, 18, Troy.

AMERICAN TROOPS IN GERMANY ARE "STANDING PAT"

Secy. Weeks Says They Are Not Concerned With the Treaty of Versailles.

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—American troops on the Rhine are "standing pat," Secretary Weeks said today, and a similar attitude as to the Rhine situation growing out of the occupation of additional German cities by the allies, was expressed at the state department.

No additional instructions have been sent to Major General Allen, commanding the American forces, and no inquiries have been made of the allied government regarding the penalties to be imposed upon Germany, which includes collection of customs duties at the new line established on the Rhine, and their payment of the reparations commission.

American troops, it was pointed out, occupied their position in Germany under the terms of the armistice and not for the fulfillment of the treaty of Versailles.

Simons Not Criticized.

LONDON, Mar. 10.—Reports that Dr. Walter Simons, head of the German delegation at the reparations conference, was being censured in government circles in Berlin are not confirmed in direct advices from that city. It is declared that his position is considered secure and that criticism of his procedure in London was based on a misapprehension of the situation here.

Occupation Completed.

ALLIED MILITARY HEAD-QUARTERS, Nueas, Mar. 10.—Allied forces have completed the occupation of Rhine ports of the Ruhr region. All that remains to be done being the seizure of a few villages and important crossroads. As yet commanding officers have not arranged a division of the occupied zone between the British, French and Belgium units.

NEW YORK CENTRAL WILL REVISE ITS WAGE SCALE

NEW YORK, March 10.—The New York Central railroad announced today that beginning April 16th, wages of approximately 43,000 employees in virtually all departments would be revised. A conference will be held later to agree on the new scale.

STANDARD OIL PLANT IN NEW YORK BURNING

NEW YORK, Mar. 10.—Fire broke out today in the Standard Oil company's plant in the Green Point section of Brooklyn, which more than a year ago was the scene of the biggest oil fires in the history of the city.

Shortly after noon five tanks in a crude oil still in which the liquid is heated and vaporized.

LACK OF SPORTS IN FRESNO DUE TO AUTOMOBILE

FRESNO, Calif., Mar. 10.—This city of 50,000 souls enjoys the reputation of having less sports and more automobiles than any other city of its size in the United States. It is probably the only city of this size in the country with no baseball team and no baseball park.

"Fresno is dead as a doornail so far as sports go," said the sport writer of a local newspaper, "and some of us blame the autos for it." Fresno's sports consists of one bowling alley, two basketball teams and some playgrounds. The high school tries its hand at football in the fall.

"Every janitor and every street sweeper owns his own car," said the sport writer, "and he spends his spare time riding in it. You have to hunt for blocks before you can park on a downtown street. Fresno just doesn't seem to have time for sports. It doesn't even have a city golf course."

But Fresno prides itself on its playgrounds, which are declared to be the best in the state.

NOTICE

Good Roads Motor club will meet behind closed doors Friday 7:30 p. m. at the district court room. No one permitted to attend but paid members and those invited.

The chairman of each committee will bring his membership list, and a roll call will be taken. No information will be given out on either the Stratford or Allen trip until after this meeting.

HATS OFF!

Hats off to Twelfth street—east of Broadway. We owe her for the hope that was and for the faith that now abides. It takes time to gravel a street—and money—and gravel. Also it takes a wide-awake, progressive citizenry to lead the way—to establish a precedent after drifting with the tide so long.

All of the wealthy folks in town don't live on Twelfth street—if they did there might be some doubt about ever getting the work done—but what they lack in wealth is more than made up for in the spirit of civic pride and progress.

And, by the way, the compliment is mutual. Had the announcement been made that the property owners on some of the other streets—and avenues—were going to spend some money to fill up mud holes and drain a few lakes in front of their home—the whole town as one man would have said, "It's a bluff," but when it was announced that Twelfth street—east of Broadway—was awake no one doubted.

"By their streets ye shall know them," might well have been said by him who knew, and we predict that ere the mid-summer sun extracts all the moisture from the bogs of other streets—and avenues—of the city folks will be saying, "Twelfth street—east of Broadway—is a regular 'up-town' street."

'Tis a consumation devoutly to be wished.

MARCH, THE MEMORABLE

This month is made memorable in a number of ways. It has been four years since a presidential inauguration, always an event of March 4. And it has been three years since Easter Sunday has occurred in March, this year on March 27.

And too, the month is always kindly remembered, because of the fact that in it falls St. Patrick's Day, the Irish Saint day whose "date" is always March 17.

In March, on March 20, at 10:51 p. m. Eastern Standard time, comes the vernal equinox, and we have spring. That is an event looked forward to with pleasure ever since the coal pile began to dwindle. That business will "pick up" in the spring is the optimistic forecast.

March is a month of opposites—a lion coming in, a lamb as it departs.

It is a month of wild winds and delightful zephyrs, of new hats for the women, of delving in the earth, of seed planting, and hoping for radish and lettuce crops. It is a month of marbles and meandering for the boys, of hopscotch and baseball.

It is the month for the return of the migrating birds and of household renovation and backyard recreation.

RUSSIA ROUSES ITSELF.

Whether Lenine and Trotsky flee or not in only incidental so far as the permanent stability of the Russian government is concerned. Lenine and Trotsky perpetrated a half-baked and altogether unfeasible form of government on Russia when that giant people lay practically helpless. Life is again stirring the veins of the Russian people and sooner or later they will throw off these two usurpers and establish a common-sense government.

Lenine and Trotsky have had their day. They have swept across the sky of history like so many other opportunities and will find the same fate of oblivion as many an other.

Years must roll by before Russia, half illiterate and half educated, finds itself, but it is already at the point where it can distinguish between the false and the true and the word "finis" is written for all the Lenines and Trotskys there. All indications are to this effect.

BE NOT AFRAID.

I am not afraid of people thinking. It is action without thinking I am afraid of. I do not care how much they think, and I do not care very much on what lines they think, because once you think the right thing will come in the end. Do not be afraid of people thinking; it is only those who have things that will not bear thinking about that you have to fear. It is only those who have vested interests that are indefensible, that are corrupt, that are oppressive that are wrong, that are unjust—they, and they alone, need fear thinking.—Premier Lloyd George.

TO COMMAND SUCCESS.

Vigilance in watching opportunity; tact and daring in seizing upon opportunity; force and persistence in crowding opportunity to its utmost of possible achievement—these are the martial virtues which must command success.—Austin Phelps.

No matter what the subject may be, any braggart will tell you he knows what he is talking about.

LADY SEARCHER FOR MISSING SON

Reported Killed by War Department; She Still Has Hope.

(By the Associated Press)
BONGSBORO, Md.—Hope that springs eternal in human breasts, sent its thrilling message to the mother heart of Mrs. Lettie V. Michael here when the mailman handed to the mother an official photograph of the grave in France where her blue-eyed, giant soldier son lay, sleeping with the heroes of the great war.

Across the card ran the legend, "Alvin A. Michael, killed in action October 17, 1918," but her son's name was Austin G. Michael. And in that moment there was born to the brave-hearted woman a hope time alone could kill that she would see again the six-foot, curly head of youngster who marched so gallantly to battle when his country called.

Perhaps you who read may help her vision to fulfillment. For there may be wandering some where in the country a lad from whose mind the impact of a German bullet swept the ties of memory, yet who writes always to a mother he knows not how to address.

Mrs. Michael has carried her search far, and here and there has found tales of "Big Mike" as his "buddies" knew him, which filled her with fearful pride. But she found conflicting accounts in the official record of his death and burial and strange reports at hospitals she visited of a patient long treated and whose description tallied closely with that of her son, but who was known as "Big Tom Hinnegan."

"Big Tom" too has vanished, and until she has found him, Mrs. Michael will not discard the hope that he may be her son, his identity lost in the crash of the bullet that scared his head.

How she fought with "Big Mike" told his mother of the great "Mike" in France and when man after man toppled over from exhaustion and finally "Big Mike" himself went down in a jangling pile. When they examined him, they found the rifles and equipment of a squad of men strung about his huge frame, carried to ease weaker comrades.

They told her too of the night when a bullet struck him down, but here there was a difference in the tales that set the mother's heart strings fluttering anew. Some of them said "Big Mike" had laid two days under a blanket, there in the heat of the battle, given up for dead. But later, signs of life were seen and he went back on the weary road to the hospital.

At one hospital, officials thought they recognized a photograph of "Big Mike" shown by the eager mother as that of "Big Tom" who also had stopped a bullet with his head. It was "Big Tom," they said, who wrote endlessly to his mother but knew not where to send the letters.

And in Washington kindly officials poured over the records to aid the search. They found a queer tale showing that "Big Mike" Tom Hinnegan had been killed. Apparently he had been twice buried by regimental chaplains. Once in the honor grave yard at Consenvoye and again at Meuse. There was a difference too, in identification numbers, and the mother came home, weary, but still with high hope in her heart that time would give back her son.

NEW TREE GROWING PLAN FOR NATION DISCUSSED

(By the Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Mar. 9.—A "forest of the states" is planned for Exposition park, here, by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

It is hoped to obtain from every state in the union, as well as from Hawaii, Porto Rico, Guam, Philippines and Alaska, a tree representative of the district from which it comes.

They will be planted and cared for by the Los Angeles municipal park commission.

The governor of each state is to be asked to send a tree typical of his state. In some cases, the requests already have been forwarded and, in the cases of Idaho and Louisiana, favorable responses have been received. Idaho will be represented by a white pine and Louisiana by a magnolia.

Every state in the union is represented here by a society of its former residents, who, because of the plan for a "forest of states" look forward to the time when they may hold their annual outings in Los Angeles in the shade of a tree "from their own home state."

Kansas Club Women Active.

(By the Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Mar. 10.—Club women of Kansas City have begun a fight on lax censorship of motion pictures, which some officials of Women's organizations declare is responsible for an increase in juvenile crimes and immorality.

A bill creating a state board of censorship is before the Missouri legislature and it has received the indorsement of a number of religious and women's organizations.

The movement here, which is fostered by the Susan B. Anthony club of Kansas City will seek to strengthen censorship regulations in Kansas City to make motion pictures safe for youths, it was announced. A meeting of representatives of all women's clubs in the city will be held soon to evolve a plan for obtaining stricter censorship.

What Every American Should Know About His Country and Its History

James A. Garfield as a Driver on the Tow-path of a Canal

THE recent election of Senator Harding to the Presidency recalls the many instances in the past where poor boys have received the highest honors the American people can give. The life of James A. Garfield is another one of the many that show that in America it has been and still is possible for young men of ability, energy, and lowly conditions and win places of usefulness and honor. Garfield was born in Ohio in a log cabin amid the poverty of the frontier. At the age of sixteen he was employed by his cousin who had charge of a canal boat to drive horses on the tow-path. The wages were ten dollars a month and board. He was soon promoted to the position of steersman, but his earnings went for medicines and medical attendance. He was persuaded by his mother to resume his studies; thereupon, he entered an Academy near his home where he earned his living by working in the carpenter shops in the village. While a student at Hiram College, Garfield defrayed the expenses of his tuition by acting as janitor, lighting the fires, sweeping the floors, and ringing the bell.

Andrew Jackson was the first of the "Log Cabin" Presidents. He was of Irish parentage. His parents came as poor emigrants to share the labors of their friends and countrymen who had settled near Charleston, South Carolina. Andrew was born a few days after his father's death, and nothing was left for the support of the family. He received only the schooling which the rude frontier schools afforded. Andrew Jackson became one of the most popular of Presidents and a national hero and the idol of a great political party. Beginning with the election of Jackson, the American people have chosen for their chief executive men from the humble walks of life. Prior to Jackson, men from the well-to-do classes were elected. President Grant, as a youth, worked in his father's tan-yard; Andrew Jackson was apprenticed in his boyhood to a tailor; James Buchanan was the son of a poor immigrant from Ireland; Millard Fillmore was a wool-carder; William Henry Harrison was born in a log cabin in the frontier regions of the West; Grover Cleveland was the son of a clergyman; when Abraham Lincoln was nominated for the Presidency he was known as the "Rail Splitter" candidate. During the convention in Springfield where he received the endorsement of Illinois of the Presidency, his friends brought into the meeting rails that were said to have been split by Lincoln in his younger days, and an enthusiastic demonstration followed.

Tell Whole Truth.

MIAMI, Mar. 10.—By telling the "whole truth," thereby impressing the judge that he still "had some good left in him," Virgin Noding arraigned in county court here on a charge of operating an illicit still was saved $100.

Judge Q. P. McGhee, before whom Noding was tried, had decided to fine the man $200. When he asked Noding about the still and his connections and received answers that left nothing untold, the judge declared he "felt there was a lot of good left in the fellow and relented $100 worth."

"What did you think of doing with that liquor you had made?" was the judge's query.

"I intended to sell it if anyone would buy it," was the reply which shaved $100 off the intended $200 penalty decided by the judge.

423 Seniors to Get Degrees.

(By the Associated Press)

NORMAN, Mar. 10.—Degrees will be conferred upon 423 seniors in the University of Oklahoma this year, an increase of nearly 100 over any previous graduating class, according to a tentative list of 1921 degree candidates announced by Dean Roy Gittinger, registrar. Sixty-two certificates will be issued in addition to the degrees, according to the list.

All counties in the state, ten other states and two foreign countries are represented in the class.

May all Special election.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICKASHA, Mar. 10.—Governor Robertson will be asked to call a special election should 51 per cent of the farmers living in the community sign a petition to annex 30 Stephens county a strip of territory consisting of 96 square miles across the southern part of Gray county.

Community have been appointed by the chamber of commerce of Chickasha to go into the district and work among voters, displaying tax rates in the two counties.

Mine Production Low.

(By the Associated Press)

MIAMI, Mar. 10.—The mine turn-in of the Oklahoma-Kansas mining gold for the week ending March 5 was the lowest in the history of the field, according to reports made by operators. But two mines in the field reported any zinc production, while five reported lead shipments. A total of 984,000 pounds of zinc and 487,350 pounds of lead was mined, according to the report.

Two old-time prospectors recently appeared at the county recorder's office in Denver and staked a gold claim in the heart of the city. They say they struck a rich vein in the ground beneath the city hall, the union station and other portions of the business district.

Vast quantities of precious stones in an old iron trunk deposited years ago in the treasury of Austria were recently brought to light by the Finance Minister who was searching the treasury. The treasure for the most part consists of opals and other precious stones.

New Modes of Spring Suits That Reflect Many Influences

Wonderfully inspiring are the exquisite new modes for Spring, tasseled sashes gaily swinging are but one bit of evidence of the spontaneity of the new Spring Suits. Box Coats, semi-tailored and directoire styles, pique twill, tricotine and serges in navy and grey are desired colors. Color is introduced in the form of gay gilets, sashes and touches of embroidery.

Inspection of the many smart styles displayed will disclose the desirability of buying the Spring Suit early and getting a full measure of pleasure from it.

Nature's Way.

As a fond mother, when the day is over, Leads by the hand her little child to bed.

Half willing, half reluctant to be led And leaves his broken playthings on the floor.

Still gazing at them through the open door.

Not wholly reassured and comforted By promises of others in their stead.

Which, though more splendid may not please him more— So Nature deals with us, and takes away Our playthings one by one, and by the hand Leads us to rest so gently that we go Scarce knowing if we wish to go or stay.

Being to full of sleep to understand How far the unknown transcends the what we know.

—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Miss Ethel Coady was quite married to Leonard West this morning by Judge Fisher in his office at the court house. Only a few friends were present and immediately following the wedding the young couple left for Troy where they will make their home.

They are both residents of Troy and are well known there. Their many friends were greatly surprised to hear of the marriage, but all wish them happiness in their new life.

Miss Maurine Lawrence of Holdenville was in the city today visiting friends.

Mrs. L. L. Benard returned to her home here yesterday after a month's visit with relatives in Colorado.

Mrs. Morris Levy of Houston, Texas, was in the city a few days last week visiting her sister, Mrs. Jacob Pelter.

Mrs. Ella Wilburn left yesterday afternoon for Okmulgee where she will visit her daughter for a few weeks.

Miss Willie McFarland who has been visiting her parents in Tulsa for the past week, returned to her home here yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson are in the city for a few days visit with friends. They will return to their home in Lawton Sunday.

Miss Bertha Brown of Muskogee will arrive in the city this afternoon to spend the week-end with her friend, Miss Enid Walters, and others.

Miss Beulah Mansfield of Bartlesville will leave this afternoon for her home at that place after spending several days here visiting her aunt, Mrs. T. D. Barton, and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Livingston were in the city the first of the week visiting friends. They left yesterday for Dallas where they will spend a few weeks visiting his parents, before returning to their home in Baltimore.

Mrs. R. O. Stuart arrived in the city yesterday from Chelsea, Okla., and will spend the remainder of the week visiting her sister, Mrs. Paul V. Norrell, and family. She will also visit other relatives and friends.

Lester H. Olson of 821 West Twelfth street returned to his home here yesterday after recovering from an operation in an Oklahoma City hospital. His friends are glad to see him home again and to know that he is much improved.

Jacob Pelter left Sunday for Houston, Texas, where he will spend several weeks for his health. He will visit his sister-in-law while there. Mr. Pelter has had a nervous breakdown on account of the large amount of business occasioned by his store at Stratford and here and found it necessary to take a vacation to recuperate.

YOUNG GIRL IS DESERTED BY FATHER: TRAVELS OVER STATE

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 10.—Clad in a pair of her father's overalls, sleeping in box cars at nights and traveling by day for two months on freight trains over Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas since the first of January, was the story told by a bobbed-haired 15-year-old girl in her confession received recently by James G. Findlay, head of the federal bureau of investigation here.

According to her statement, she has been living with her father, an oil driller in Texas, since the separation of her father and mother when she was 11 years old. Last December, her father left home without telling her where he was going and never returned, the girl said. After living alone for three days, she had her hair cut short, donned her father's clothes and has been traveling since. Her journey finally ended in the county jail at Tonkawa, Okla.

Former Resident of City Leaves for Old Tennessee Home

R. P. Price, one of Ada's oldest and most highly respected citizens, left with his two sons, Willie Dale and Cecil Rae, for his boyhood home in Sparta, Tenn.

Twenty-two years ago Mr. Price with his family, came to the town of Ada, and bought a farm near the cemetery, and a half block on West Eighteenth. He built a home on Eighteenth, and lived there until he could no longer resist the call of his boyhood days, and Tuesday he left to answer it.

He leaves a host of friends in Ada who value his friendship highly, and wish him success in his new home.

NEW MAGAZINE MAKES APPEARANCE TO PUBLIC

(By the Associated Press)

TULSA, Mar. 9.—The first issue of "The Nation's Highways," a magazine dealing with road promotion, road construction and road maintenance, will appear April 1.

E. Lee Guthrie, secretary of the Automobile Club of Oklahoma, is the publisher and editor of the magazine and Col. Clarence B. Douglas, managing director of the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce, is associated editor. The magazine will be national in scope and is the official organ of the Albert Pike Highway and White River Trails associations. It will be published in Tulsa.

The first issue will have 24 pages and will deal largely with proposed construction work on state and interstate highways.

The second issue of this magazine will be off the press in time for distribution at the big road meet to be held in Tulsa April 21, 22 and 23, when three annual conventions of road organizations and airman's convention will be held here. The road convention are those of the Associated highways of America, The Albert Pike highway and The White River Trails association.

TAX LEVY WILL BE RAISED AT OKMULGEE

(By the Associated Press)

OKMULGEE, Mar. 10.—Okmulgee's general tax levy will be raised from six to ten mills in an amendment to the city charter proposed by Orlando Swain, city commissioner of public safety, for submission at the April election. The commissioner will also advocate taking the city funds out of the hands of the excise board and granting an increase in salary to the city commissions from 2,400 to $4,000 a year.

Local Presbyterian Pastor Receives Call To Service

Rev. N. P. Patterson, D.D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, recently received a request to give one, two or three months to the Temperance work in Ireland, Scotland and England. Dr. Patterson says he is very grateful for the honor maintaining in the invitation, and would be very glad to go, but that he will make no move that will in any way hurt or retard the work of his church here. His going cannot be definitely decided he says until he has a conference with his church officials.

Dr. Patterson would be a most valuable man in that work. He was one of the men who faced the campaign to complete success that put the dry amendment in the Constitution of Nebraska in 1916. His friends in Ada feel honored to have him offered this place of honorable service in the British Isles.

BOYS OF THIS COUNTY KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS TO RELIEVE DEGREES

NORMAN, Mar. 10.—(Special)—Two students from Pontotoc county will be awarded degrees at the University of Oklahoma in commencement exercises early in June, according to a tentative list of graduates made up by Dean Roy Gittinger, registrar.

A total of 423 seniors, the highest college graduating class by almost 100 ever turned out in Oklahoma, will receive degrees at the state university this year. This is a larger number than will be graduated by all other colleges of the state combined this year. It is believed, all counties of the state, ten other states and two foreign countries are represented in the class.

Degrees to be granted range from bachelor of arts to master of science and the schools of law, medicine, public and private business, the college of engineering, the school of pharmacy, and the department of geology have the heaviest graduation on record here. Twenty-eight kinds of degrees will be granted.

Students from Pontotoc county who are listed to get degrees are: V. E. Cottingham, M. A., Stonewall; and Albert O. Davis, B. A., Ada.

Fells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and irritating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, purities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. (adv.)

NORMA TALMADGE

This young woman, who in private life is Mrs. Joseph Schenck, fairly ran away with the honors in a recent contest conducted by a Chicago newspaper to ascertain the most popular actress in moviedom. Miss Talmadge was born at Niagara Falls, N. Y., in 1897 and educated in the Brooklyn schools. At the age of fourteen she entered motion pictures. She now heads her own company. She is 5 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 110 pounds and has dark hair and brown eyes.

YOUR VALENTINE.

Who'er you are, what'er your line,
If you shall need a Valentine,
I'll serve it if it shall chance to be.

Art galleries in New York last year exhibited specimens of African doll-makers. Perhaps the most interesting story of dolls in Africa is that which concerns the doll custom of a tribe dwelling near Lake Nyassa. When a member of the tribe dies a rough image of the dead person is made of rags or wood and laid away in a tent. Thousands of doll images of dead tribe members lie in the tent, and it is said that the tribe believes that the dolls are the embodiment of the souls of the dead men. By keeping the souls on earth they believe they are cheating the fiends which are supposed to lurk beyond life. The tent is regarded as sacred and only the medicine men are permitted near it.

WHEN WOMAN HITS THE TRAIL IN THE CANADIAN ROCKIES

The outdoor girl—and her name is legion—knows almost as much about the trails, camps, mountains and fishing of the Canadian Pacific Rockies as mere man. Every summer Banff and Lake Louise are thronged with members of the fair sex who hit the trail to view the beauties of lakes and streams where the trout hide, climb mountains and camp for days near to Nature's heart. Safeguarded by expert guides they learn to ford streams, fish and shoot, and there are real Swiss guides from the Alps overseas to show the way to the summits of majestic mountains. When they ride, climb and camp they wear the riding breeches of their soldier brothers, husbands or sweethearts and nobody thinks anything about it—not even Mrs. Grundy, because she has been wearing the shortest of short skirts herself to be in the mode. The war changed many things. It gave woman the vote and made breeches for women conventional. And the Banff girl wears 'em.

She is as much at home whipping the Spray Lakes or Lake Kananaskis for Dolly Varden trout for breakfast as she is in ordering filet mignon from the menu of the mountain hotels and, tutored by the cowboys who ride their sure-footed ponies like centaurs, she is soon able to qualify as a centaress even if mythology did overlook her because she was a woman, and not half man, half horse. Beauty appeals to the outdoor girl, and she loves the Canadian Rockies which rise a mile or more above Lake Louise and Banff because they are unexcelled in beauty and majesty. The Alpine Club of Canada has many women members, the most expert of whom do not hesitate to attempt the conquest of any peak men have ascended. In 1901 Mount Assiniboine was ascended for the first time by Sir James Outram. Three years later Miss Gertrude Benham, an English girl, was the first of her sex to reach the summit of this great peak, the Matterhorn of the Canadian Rockies. Both were assisted by Swiss guides.

Dainty Dorothy Still Owner of Original $10

Dainty Dorothy eluded all efforts to penetrate her disguise yesterday and was elated when interviewed by a news reporter.

Promptly at 3 o'clock she entered Shaw's Department Store and examined and priced some dress goods from Mrs. Fauntleroy. She imagined that Mrs. Fauntleroy was going to ask her the question from the searching look she received. She then went west to Mosier's Department Store and inquired for a pattern. Hesitating in a selection, she continued to the Stevens-Wilson store where she purchased pattern 2329. She continued westward to Conn's where she spent two and one-half minutes examining the show window. She entered Shelton's furniture store, but didn't wait to be asked if she was Dainty Dorothy.

She spent three minutes in front of McSwain theatre examining the program. Here she met a friend and after a moment's conversation she accompanied her friend to the P. & E. grocery where her friends bought groceries for the following day.

Turning east, she entered Simpson's and purchased some buttons from Mrs. Smith. Mrs. Smith had just previously asked a lady if she was Dainty Dorothy, but omitted to ask her. Continuing eastward to the Hensler & Story drug store, Mr. Hensler waited on her. The younger clerks probably regret now that Mr. Hensler waited on her. Escaping from them she crossed the street and at the same time Mr. Wells in his car wanted to cross resulting in both having to stop. Entering the First National bank, she received change for $5.00. She then turned toward the postoffice, walking leisurely along Broadway. She bought a stamp from Miss Fannie McKinney and mailed a letter. She inquired of Ralph McMillan the subscription price of the Ladies Home Journal. She then turned eastward to the Fire Department. Here she thought all was lost and held the $10 gold piece firmly grasped but ready to surrender it. Those gallant heroes looked longingly at her, but evidently lacked courage to accost her. She says: "Faint heart never won fair lady and $10 in gold."

A change will be made Saturday Dainty Dorothy will appear between the hours of 10 a. m. and noon. To aid you in discovering her identity, her picture will be in the window of Auld's Cleaning Works Friday and Saturday.

Don't fail to catch her. Ask her the question: "Are you Dainty Dorothy of Auld's Cleaning Works?" and receive $10 in gold.

MEN SHOULD HAVE LICENSE FOR THE
SALE OF DRUGS

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 10.—Oklahoma house to house canvassers who offer for sale by public outcry drugs, medicines, chemicals or other agency for the treatment of disease without having obtained a license are subject to fine and imprisonment under a bill introduced in the lower house of the legislature Monday.

An annual county license fee of $500 would be levied under the bill upon all such itinerant vendors doing business in any county in the state. The sum would be paid to the county clerk, who would pay same over to the county treasurer for the use of the country road and bridge fund of said county.

The act would make unlawful the sale of medicine or drugs, pharmaceutical preparation, chemical or chemical or composition, or any implement or application for the treatment of disease by peddlers or house to house vendors. Writing or printing a cure by any drug, nostrum, manipulation or other expedient without previously having obtained a license is also restricted under the law.

The license granted any such vendor would show that the applicant has paid his fee and is authorized to do business in that county for one year. The bill would not prevent incorporated towns and cities from levying an additional license on such vendors.

Conviction for violation of the act carries a fine of not less than $50 or more than $500, or imprisonment.

Floresville, Texas.
—My mother gave me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when I was a young girl. I did not develop as I should have and suffered severe pain. The 'Prescription' brought me through this critical time in a good healthy condition and I do not hesitate to recommend it to all young girls who suffer as I did.—MRS. R. G. SMITH, Box 266.

ward to catch every word, showing intense interest in this phase of the trial, which usually does not attract noteworthy attention.

Spectators who were denied admittance to the court room after the doors had been closed milled around in the lobby and on the two flights of stairs leading to the court room. Eyes and ears sought out every available key-hole and crack to the various entrances to the court chamber. Some on their knees and others bending in all conceivable positions in their attempt to gain a glimpse of the interior.

Mrs. Clara Smith Hamon, the defendant, who appeared in the court room promptly at the opening of the trial appeared wanly cheerful and before court was called to order smiled and shook hands with a number of friends who came to her side. From time to time she conferred with members of her counsel and as the veniemen were being examined slipped a note book from her skirt pocket and made notations.

The presence of Attorney General Freeling and his participation in the trial at the direction of Governor Robertson, lead to several indirect clashes of state and defense counsel.

Defense counsel in questioning veniemen asked if the presence of the state official and anything he might say or do would sway opinion and insisted that the veniemen treat him in their consideration as "a common lawyer."

The defense counsel explained that the law did not make it mandatory that the governor appoint the attorney general to participate in this case and that it was not the usual custom.

A TEXAS FAMILY'S EXPERIENCE

Galveston, Texas.—"After the flood in 1900, all my family became run-down, due to exposure of being in the water, loss of sleep, etc. They were all feeling miserable and the only medicine they took was Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By the use of this they were all restored to health and strength.

"I always keep the 'Pleasant Pellets' in my home. They are an excellent regulator of the stomach, liver and bowels, or for bilious attacks. I can speak in the highest terms of all of Dr. Pierce's Medicines."—MRS. J. W. MOSS, 3913 Ave. K.

TWO BROTHERS
PAID $500 EACH

By
Heralds of Liberty

At a meeting last night in the City Hall R. C. Howard, state manager, delivered two checks of $500.00 each to Ernest C. Hughes, of the parcels post department of post office, and to Wm. J. Hughes, proprietor of the Ada Electric Shoe Shop. These were Joint Life Distributions on account of deaths in other states in accordance with their policy plan.

This is the second $500 paid to Ernest C. Hughes, in past 30 days and was a surprise to him as well as his friends who are rejoicing with him over his good fortune, which is only the fruit of his wise choice five years ago in placing his insurance with the Heralds of Liberty as every person insured with them will be paid if they live or their beneficiary if they die.

This makes ten payments made to Ada Certificate holders, amounting to $5,000, none of whom have been members as long as six years nor have paid over $85.00.

Those who have been paid are: J. W. Sweatt, Nell Hurst Morrison, B. A. Gay, H. Claude Pitt, Lora B. Lyday, Roy Ward, Malco Nickell, Ernest C. Hughes (two payments), Wm. J. Hughes.

Messrs. Claude and Guy Logsdon are the district managers in Ada.

STATE GAME AND FOWL ENJOY GOOD
GROWTH FOR YEAR

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 10.—Wild game and fowl showed the most abundant growth on the state and federal game reserves in Oklahoma in 1920 of any year since the restricted areas were announced according to a statement made here today by Ben Watt, state fish and game warden. Quail, deer, wild turkey and similar game are reported in abundant numbers on the reserves.

The McCurtain county game reserve has more than a 1,000 wild turkeys and 300 deer on this tract alone, Mr. Watt said, while the last year was the greatest year for quail known in Oklahoma since statehood. Although many quail were killed there is left ample stock according to Mr. Watt.

Twelve deer have been added to the park in Bryan county and at Tahlequah, in connection with the state normal there, a total of six deer has been placed. Mr. Watt now has under way a plan establishing small game and fish farms at all state institutions.

Wild geese and ducks also showed remarkable growth last year, Mr. Watt declared, and a more extensive breeding of these fowl will be carried on this year.

The warden has suggested to the legislature that it would be wise, due to the unusual growth of deer and wild turkey, to declare an open season for 10 days in the month of December, in which one turkey gobbler and one buck deer may be lawfully killed, providing a special big game license has been secured.

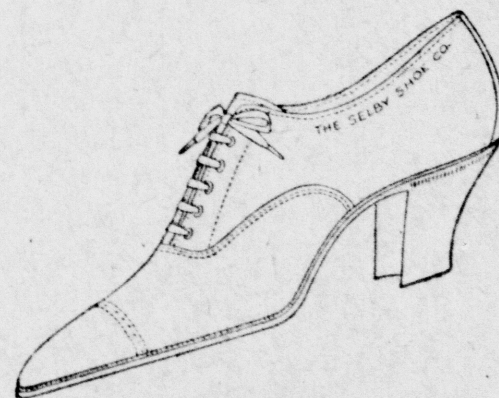

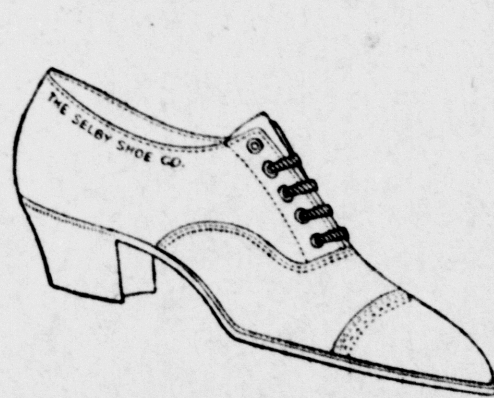

In twelve counties of Alabama the spotted bean beetle has appeared. It not only attacks the table beans but has destroyed thousands of acres of velvet and soy beans and has been found feeding on other legumes. Arsenical compounds have no noticeable effect on the pest.
